Statement of the Problem

We all know that Health Centers are very beneficial when it comes to our health care but then there is one problem; they only have a printed version of our health records which can be lost, torn, burned which can be a drawback. It's hard when we, the common people, want to have a copy of our own medical records in the local health center and we can't have it due to lost records and such.

Proposed Solution

Our team decided to make a web application entitled “Health Center Medical Assessment System” in which we can aid health centers to pull off specific medical records for people easily. No hassle; just a couple of keys pressed on the keyboard and a few clicks on the mouse, you got your medical records in such a short time.
